

"Mojo Lemon Blues Band has been a staple in the Western Wisconsin music scene for a decade. Mojo's trademark "in your face" blues rock shows have become legendary in the Chippewa Valley. Josh Entzminger on guitar and vocals, "Mojo Terry" Demars on bass and vocals, Will Chopper on keys and vocals and "Big J" Introwitz on drums and vocals round out the blues-rock powerhouse that is Mojo Lemon. The band has shared both local and regional success both as a supporting act and headlining. Got Mojo?"

A Little About the Blues

Tampa Red.

Out of the dozens of fine slide guitarists who recorded blues, only a handful -- Elmore James, Muddy Waters, and Robert Johnson, for example -- left a clear imprint on tradition by creating a recognizable and widely imitated instrumental style. Tampa Red was another influential musical model. During his heyday in the '20s and '30s, he was billed as "The Guitar Wizard," and his stunning slide work on steel National or electric guitar shows why he earned the title. His 30-year recording career produced hundreds of sides: hokum, pop, and jive, but mostly blues (including classic compositions "Anna Lou Blues," "Black Angel Blues," "Crying Won't Help You," "It Hurts Me Too," and "Love Her with a Feeling").

Listeners who only know Tampa Red's hokum material are missing the deeper side of one of the mainstays of Chicago blues. His peers included Big Bill Broonzy, with whom he shared a special friendship. Members of Lester Melrose's musical mafia and drinking buddies, they once managed to sleep through both games of a Chicago White Sox doubleheader. Eventually alcohol caught up with Red, and he blamed his latter-day health problems on an inability to refuse a drink.

During Red's prime, his musical venues ran the gamut of blues institutions: down-home juke joints, the streets, the vaudeville theater circuit, and the Chicago club scene. Due to his polish and theater experience, he is often described as a city musician or urban artist in contrast to many of his more limited musical contemporaries. Furthermore, his house served as the blues community's rehearsal hall and an informal booking agency. According to the testimony of Broonzy and Big Joe Williams, Red cared for other musicians by offering them a meal and a place to stay and generally easing their transition from country to city life.

Today's listener will enjoy Tampa Red's expressive vocals and perhaps be taken aback by his kazoo solos. His songwriting has stood the test of time, and any serious slide guitar student had better be familiar with Red's guitar wizardry. ~ Barry Lee Pearson, All Music Guide

Young Blues Night

Join us on June 30 as we celebrate some of the up and coming blues players from throughout the Chippewa Valley. They'll be joining some of the more established players we've all come to know through the years. If you know of someone who we should include, if they're under 25, contact one of the Blues Society members at the tent.

About the Series

The event you're attending today was made possible through the generous donations of the sponsors, whose names are contained within this flyer and in the announcements before and after each event. If you like what you're hearing and would like to show your appreciation, please do so by giving them your patronage.
